1 Using LaTeX to make documents that meet NREL's requirements

A LaTeX class called CorporateCompact.cls has been written that implements corporate formatting requirements in LaTeX, but is oriented towards shorter documents.

This document is based on an extract from the CorporateArticle.cls demonstration document.

1.1 Functionality

The CorporateCompact.cls style file has all of the functionality of the CompactArticle class and is based on the standard LaTeX article class. It uses reduced spacing for the title, section headings, and lists compared to CorporateArticle.cls. Citations can be included if required.
